I've many worked on design, such as, logo, brochure, poster, name card, layout of magazine and book something like that. But design work I like and most impressed is web design. Design must always consider about convenience and satisfaction of the user.

The work about programming that I did, such as, front-end web development by using html css and javascript, application on Android and programming by using C++.

The good programming must design the logic each part for effective programming.
